Best code generator in the WORLD (two-dimensional)!
IF YOU ARE ON THIS PAGE MEANS THAT EVERYTHING HAPPENS FOR A REASON! Increase your winning chances with this app! This app helps players to choose numbers for La Primitiva lotto draws.
This two-dimensional app generating numbers contains an algorithm, UNIQUE IN THE WORLD that acts like real lottery draws. As in reality, every number is chosen in a certain time. This is how it happens with the app and it generates the time as well as the numbers, being the closest simulation to the real lottery draw.
You can choose how many even and odd numbers the app to generate and play.
Players may pick 6 different numbers from 1 to 49 . Play the official La Primitiva lottery by selecting six numbers from a guess range of 1-49. A reintegro number, which decides the La Primitiva jackpot, is automatically added to your official Spanish lottery ticket. theLotter offers 4 or 8 line tickets, and $8,9,10$ or 11 -number systematic forms online that create all possible combinations of your selected numbers for more ways to win. The probability of this happening is 1 in 13,983,816.

Reintegro is a randomly selected number from 0-9 added to official La Primitiva lotto tickets. La Primitiva jackpots are won by tickets showing $6+R$, to match the numbers drawn. All tickets with the reintegro are refunded the official ticket cost!

There are three types of probabilities, each differing only in interpretation but still subject to the same rules:
Mathematical

The theoretical development based on equally likely outcomes and their far-reaching generalization into measure theory.
Empirical
Events are assigned probabilities based on empirical observations from the past.
Subjective
This was championed by the Italian mathematician Bruno de Finetti and views probabilities as personal reflections of an individual's opinion about an event.

The probabilities associated with La Primitiva Lottery are determined by calculations based on equally likely outcomes but their interpretation is empirical, as follows. If an experiment (such as a weekly Lotto drawing) is repeated under similar conditions many times (mathematically the requisite number of times must approach infinity) then the probability of an event is the long run proportion of experimental repetitions on which the event occurs. (This is called a law of large numbers. It is a mathematical result only.) As illustration, the probability of obtaining a fourth place prize is 0.0009686 . This means that in 26,000 Lotto draws, each particular choice of six numbers will yield a fourth place prize (matching exactly 4 numbers) on approximately 0.0009686 of those plays, that is $26000 \times 0.000986=\mathbf{2 5}$ times. There is no guarantee that this will happen 25 times. The actual number of times is random and subject to what is called the Poisson approximation. The figure of 25 represents an expected number of winnings and is a useful measure by which to compare the performance of different strategies.

Odd numbers are those which end in $1,3,5,7$ and 9 while even numbers are those which end in $0,2,4,6$ and 8 . You are more likely to win if your odd-even number combination is either 2-4, 3-3 or 4-2.More than $70 \%$ of the winning combinations in all the lotteries 6/49 in the past two years are in these category.
